Oh yea, good luck with that. We are working on it also. Will touch base later when it calms down some.

Sorry, I'm the Technical Editor on the Gold King Mine release. Can't focus on anything else but that right now. This is crazier than Deep Horizon.

Do you want to be a monitor? We are looking for people out of HQ?

How is it going?

LA:

GreenSpark Moderator Role

∇ A few times per day, check the ideas posted on the Challenge page to ensure they contain no personal attacks/harassment or completely off-topic submissions.

o If this is suspected, the moderator will let the GreenSpark Team (Shayla Powell/Nick Chamberlain) know and the submissions will be removed.

o This responsibility can be split between several moderators (e.g., Moderator A checks it at 10AM, Moderator B checks it at 2 PM, Moderator C checks it at 5PM).

∇ If a submitted idea is on-topic but needs further detail, a moderator may suggest that the original submitter expand upon the idea. E.g., "this is an interesting idea! Do you or anyone else have suggestions about possible actions we could take to implement it?" We'll have submission criteria to help kindly remind folks.

Thanks for checking, Hannah. Let's think about who else we can approach in the regions.

Hello!

I checked in with Lisa and she is unavailable to moderate but will be happy to rejoin the GreenSpark team when she returns from her detail. Sounds like we will need to recruit someone else from the regions to act as a moderator.

Thanks!
